(ii) The Government releases cotton export quota in phases during each season with a view- to balance the interest of cotton growers on the one hand and cotton consumers such as textiles mills and handloom and powerloom weavers on the other hand.

Unemployment Problem

*173. SHRI S. AGNIRAJ: Will the Minister of LABOUR be pleased to state:

(a) the total number of candidates in waiting lists in Employment Exchanges, State-wise;

(b) what steps are being taken to create more jobs;

(c) what is the percentage of increase of persons seeking Government jobs;

(d) whether Government are proposing to give any unemployment allowance to the waiting persons; and

(e) if so, the details thereof?

THE MINISTER OF LABOUR (DR. SATYA NARAYAN JATIYA):

(a) to (e) The total number of job seekers, all of whom are not necessarily unemployed. Who were registerd with the Employment Exchanges, State-wise, is given in statement (See below) The percentage of job-seekers seeking employment in public sector only is around 46.11% as per the survey carried out by the Ministry of Labour in 1988. No subsequent survey has been undertaken by the Ministry of Labour. There is no proposal with the Central Government to give unemployment allowance to those waiting for employment.

The primary objective of the Ninth Plan is to generate greater productive employment in the growth process itself by concentrating on sector, sub-sectors and technologies which are more labour intensive in regions characterised by higher rate of unemployment and under employment. The Ninth Plan recognised the high incidence of unemployment and increasing casualisation of labour and adopted a National Employment Assurance Scheme. A Task Force under the Chairmanship of Dr. M.S. Ahluwalia, Member, Planning Commission has been set up to look into the employment generation taking place and suggest measures to generate at least one hundred million job in a period of 10 years (Ten million in each year).
